rev. 01_ 2026

AROMEDI. Nature that works

AROMEDI develops aromatherapy and personal care products designed for everyday use: clear, effective, and with strong turnover.

Each product addresses a specific need, without complications or empty promises.

The focus is on what matters: products the customer understands, that work, and that sell themselves.

çRecognizable scents, practical formats, and a well-crafted user experience that supports in-store sales.

The brand is designed to perform at the point of sale: clean and attractive packaging, clear selling points for the sales team, and categories that customers can quickly identify. This translates into easier purchasing and higher conversion.

The range allows for different price points without losing brand coherence, facilitating cross-selling and increasing the average ticket.

We don't follow trends. We build trust.
